- Harassment or stalking Violence, perceived acts of violence or threats of violence. Any explicit or implicit challenge to the safety, well-being or health of any member of staff.
- Brandishing weapons or objects which could be used as weapons
- Role of Senior Managers Senior managers must, in consultation with staff and their representatives carry out an assessment of the risk of violence within their working environment and within the scope of their responsibilities.

They have an on-going duty to:

- Establish a safe system of working conditions for their staff including, where necessary, an assessment of the compatibility of the employees circumstances/condition with the workplace;
- Ensure that a systematic assessment of training needs is carried out for staff within their area of responsibility,
- Ensure that appropriate training is provided to and accessed by all staff
- Ensure that staff receive relevant and timely support including counseling following incidents of violence so they are enabled to evaluate and learn by experience.
- Ensure that staff understand the policy and related operational procedures with regard to handling incidents of violence.
- Ensure that where staff have identified any potential area of risk, a risk assessment is carried out.

- Ensure that where staff are placed in imminent danger immediate action is taken to minimize or remove the danger.
- Ensure that staff attend training appropriate to their area (as identified through the risk assessment process).
- Ensure that records are maintained of risk assessments and training.
- Ensure that relevant reporting documentation has been completed.

Provide timely and appropriate support to staff who have been victims of abuse/violence.

Provide feedback to affected staff on action taken by the Company.

Support staff in relation to all incidents of abuse of violence at work, including those that are trans phobic, sexist, homophobic, sectarian, disability, race, religion or political opinion related. Role of the employee.

All staff have the responsibility to:

- Accept responsibility for their own safety.
- Consider the safety of others who may be affected by their actions or omissions.
- Familiarize themselves with and follow this policy and to bring to their managers attention concerns relating to personal safety.
- Participate fully in risk assessments conducted in their work area.
- Participate in any training that is made available to them.
- Report all incidents of violence or threatened violence to their line manager.
- Record details of incidents on an appropriate report form.
- Contribute towards reviews concerning any violent incidents in which he/she has been involved.

Training This policy will be incorporated into staff information packs.

All training needs identified will be addressed, and it will be the responsibility of the line manager to ensure that all staff attend appropriate training.

Reporting, Investigating and Monitoring All incidents of abuse or violence to staff must be formally reported to their manager.

All incidents should be investigated and reviewed by the line manager to ensure that control measures are appropriate.

Monitoring of all incidents will be carried out by the relevant Manager and any follow up action required will be assessed to ensure that it is appropriate and has been carried out.

Any incidents or trends that emerge will be reported to the Company.

The Company will ensure that members of the public accessing its facilities are made aware of its commitment to zero tolerance of abuse or violence against staff by publishing the policy on the company website(s) Staff Support In the event of an employee becoming a victim of serious abuse or violence at work the Company will ensure that appropriate support is given.

International Lighthouse with Police Where physical injury or threatening behavior has been suffered by a member of staff it is important that the matter is referred to the police for investigation if appropriate.

The Company will support the police when undertaking a criminal investigation with a view to prosecution. It is important that staff affected co-operate in this process.
